These uses and disclosures are necessary to make sure that all of our patients receive quality care and to operate and manage our office. We also may share information with other entities that have a relationship with you (for example, your health plan) for their health care operation activities.

We may use and disclose Protected Health Information to contact you to remind you that you have an appointment with us. We also may use and disclose Protected Health Information to tell you about treatment alternatives or health-related benefits and services that may be of interest to you.

OTHER PERMITTED USES AND DISCLOSURES:

We may use and/or disclose your medical information in a number of circumstances in which it is not required that we obtain your consent or authorization, or provide you with an opportunity to agree or object.

Those circumstances include:

- Unless you object, we may disclose your medical information to a family member, relative, close friend, or other person that you identify.
- We may be required by law to disclose your medical information. We will make your medical information available to the Secretary of the Department of Health and Human Services.
- We may disclose your medical information to a public health agency to help prevent or control disease, injury, or disability. This may include disclosing your medical information to report certain diseases, death, abuse, neglect, or domestic violence or reporting information to the Food and Drug Administration, if you experience an adverse reaction from any of the drugs, supplies, or equipment that we use.
- We may disclose your medical information to government agencies so they can monitor, investigate, inspect, discipline, or license those who work in the health care system or for government benefit programs.
- We may disclose your medical information as authorized by law to comply with workers' compensation laws.

- We may disclose your medical information in the course of a judicial or administrative proceeding, in response to an order of a court or administrative tribunal (to the extent such disclosure is expressly authorized), and in response to a subpoena, discovery request, or other lawful process.
- We may disclose your medical information to law enforcement officials to report or prevent a crime, locate or identify a suspect, fugitive or material witness or assist a victim of a crime.
- We may use or disclose medical information for research purposes when the research received approval of an institutional review board that has reviewed the research proposal and established protocols to ensure the privacy of your medical information.
- If you are a member of the armed forces, we may disclose your medical information as required by military command authorities or to evaluate your eligibility for veteran's benefits, for conducting national security and intelligence activities, including providing protective services to the President or other persons provided protective services under Federal law.
- We may disclose your medical information to coroners, medical examiners, and funeral directors so that they can carry out their duties or for purposes of identification or determining cause of death.

- If you are an inmate of a correctional institution or under the custody of a law enforcement official, we may release your medical information to the law enforcement official or correctional institution. This disclosure is required for the institution to provide health care to you, to protect the health and safety of others, or to protect the health and safety of law enforcement personnel or correctional facility staff.
- We may share your medical information with third party "business associates" that perform various services for us. For example, we may disclose your medical information to third parties to provide billing or copying services. To protect your medical information, however, we require our business associates to safeguard your medical information.

New Mexico Law In the event that New Mexico law requires us to give more protection to your medical information than stated in this Notice or required by Federal law, we will provide that additional protection. For example, we will comply with state law confidentiality provisions relating to communicable diseases, such as HIV and AIDS. We will also comply with additional state law confidentiality protections relating to treatment for behavioral health and substance abuse. Those laws generally require that we obtain your consent before we disclose your information related to behavioral health or substance abuse, subject to certain exceptions permitted by law.

If you apply for and receive substance abuse services from us, Federal law (42 CFR Part 2) requires that we obtain your written consent before we may disclose information that would identify you as a substance abuser or a patient for substance abuse services. There are exceptions to this general requirement. We may disclose such information to our workforce as needed to coordinate your care, to agencies or individuals who help us carry out our services to you; when the disclosure is allowed by a court order; or the disclosure is made to medical personnel in a medical emergency or to qualified personnel for research, audit, or program evaluation. Federal law does not protect any information about a crime committed by a patient either at the program or against any person who works for a program or about any threat to commit such a crime. Federal law does not protect any information about suspected child abuse or neglect from being reported under State law to appropriate State or local authorities.
